

Does moving actually change outcomes? Measured slope vs the model's prediction change in mean miss distance (inches) per inch moved toward the batter, 95% CI

Within-pitcher designs on pitchers who changed position between games. Every estimate is positive and consistent with the model, but none is separable from zero: consistent, underpowered.